

MEDIA INFORMATION

GUIDELINES FOR MEDIA VISITING ULURU-KATA TJUṬA NATIONAL PARK

For the local Indigenous people, the whole area covered by Uluru-Kata Tjuṭa National Park is of enormous spiritual and cultural significance and it is important for visiting media to be aware that strict photography and filming restrictions are in place for images, vision and sound recorded in and around the park, particularly if it is intended for public display or commercial use.

Before taking images of Uluru and Kata Tjuṭa for publication or other commercial use, please contact the park media office to check if you require a permit:

P: +61 8 8956 2360

E: uluru.media@environment.gov.au

For more information on film and photography guidelines with Uluru Kata Tjuṭa National Park, visit www.environment.gov.au/resource/media-and-artists-0

SOCIAL MEDIA HANDLES

Go to facebook.com/ExploreUluru and share your travel experiences and photos on our wall.

Post your photos to Instagram and tag #ExploreUluru www.ayersrockresort.com.au

IMAGE LIBRARY

A selection of high resolution images can be easily downloaded from Voyages online image library, all suitable for publishing. You will be required to simply register your details. Some images have specific credit usage requirements.

www.voyages.com.au/images

MEDIA CONTACTS

Director of Public Relations – Sydney head office

Ms Karena Noble - karena.noble@voyages.com.au

Public Relations Manager – Ayers Rock Resort

Ms Ailsa Hawke - ailsa.hawke@voyages.com.au

Public Relations Manager – Sydney head office (part-time)

Ms Merryn Andrews - merryn.andrews@voyages.com.au